The origin of the domestic dog includes the dog's genetic divergence from the wolf, its domestication, and its development into dog types and dog breeds. The dog is a member of the wolf-like canids and was the first species and the only large carnivore to have been domesticated. Genetic studies show that dogs and modern wolves display reciprocal monophyly (separate groups), which implies that ...

Balto (1919 – March 14, 1933) was a Siberian Husky and sled dog belonging to musher and breeder Leonhard Seppala. He achieved fame when he led a team of sled dogs on the final leg of the 1925 serum run to Nome, in which diphtheria antitoxin was transported from Anchorage, Alaska, to Nenana, Alaska, by train and then to Nome by dog sled to combat an outbreak of the disease.

Arguably the best dog movie ever, this is one of the few films on this list in which the dogs talk--somehow all the anthropomorphism doesn't stop them from evoking real dogs, thanks to the genius of the Disney animators. If you watch the DVD, don't miss the extras, which include a scene that was scrapped from the finished film--only surviving ...

Then you have those dog breeds that are "serious" and all about work, such as border collies And then you have lazy dogs that are happy to lay at home all day and snuggle up, like havanese. Corgis are somewhere between a pomeranian's disposition with ton of energy and happy mood, but with the work ethic of a border collie who loves to herd.
