Government and not for profit entities use fund accounting to demonstrate accountability. By segregating the assets, entities are able to demonstrate clearly that the assets were used for the intended purposes. By segregating certain activities, governments can better control the revenues and expenditures/expenses of these activities.

Government Not for Profit Accounting Flashcards | Quizlet

Government and nonprofit accounting are often lumped together as they both use fund accounting principles. However, the way in which they operate, organize financial information, and report on their data differ greatly. Below are the 3 major differences between nonprofit and government accounting processes.

3 Major Differences Between Government & Nonprofit Accounting

Accountants often refer to businesses as for-profit entities and to nonprofit organizations as not-for-profit entities, or NFPs. We will be using the more common term nonprofit instead of not-for-profit. Again, this is a very brief introduction to nonprofit accounting. There are many different types of nonprofits, including governmental nonprofits, which we will not address.
