References List and In-Text Citations. If you are citing a source quoted within another source, only the secondary source is included on your references list. There is no need to note that you are quoting a source within the source as part of this reference. When citing quoted material in the body of your text, mention the original source in the sentence and the secondary source in a parenthetical citation at the end of the line.

How to Cite a Reference Within a Reference in APA Format ...

Go to 7th edition guidelines. Use secondary sources sparingly, for instance, when the original work is out of print, unavailable through usual sources, or not available in English. Give the secondary source in the reference list; in text, name the original work and give a citation for the secondary source. For example, if Allport's work is cited in Nicholson and you did not read Allport's work, list the Nicholson reference in the reference list.
