The Celestial Railroad and Other Stories by Hawthorne ...

Nathaniel Hawthorne looked at the Christianity of the mid-1800s and found it wanting. He wrote this allegory, using Pilgrim's Progress as a basis, showing a man setting out for the Celestial City as Christian of old did. However, Hawthorne's pilgrim takes the new and improved route, traveling on the Celestial Railroad.

"The Lord of the Celestial City," began the other pilgrim, whose name was Mr. Foot-it-to-heaven, "has refused, and will ever refuse, to grant an act of incorporation for this railroad; and unless that be obtained, no passenger can ever hope to enter his dominions.

THE CELESTIAL RAILROAD - Nathaniel Hawthorne

The Celestial Railroad. " The Celestial Railroad " is short story written as an allegory by American author Nathaniel Hawthorne. In it, Hawthorne parodies the seventeenth-century book The Pilgrim's Progress by John Bunyan, which portrays a Christian's spiritual "journey" through life. In this story, the pilgrim journeys by iron horse rather than by foot, the burden of sin that Bunyan portrays is pulled by the same train, and Bunyan's figure Evangelist, preaching a message of conversion, is ...

The Celestial Railroad - American Literature

"The Celestial Railroad" is a satirical re-imagination of John Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress in light of technological and theological "progress." The tale satirizes the easy, modern Christianity of the nineteenth century. Modern critics have mostly ignored this allegory as a quirky story unrepresentative of Hawthorne's oeuvre.
