The Elegance of the Hedgehog (French: L'Élégance du hérisson) is a novel by the French novelist and philosophy teacher Muriel Barbery. The book follows events in the life of a concierge, Renée Michel, whose deliberately concealed intelligence is uncovered by an unstable but intellectually precocious girl named Paloma Josse. Paloma is the daughter of an upper-class family living in the upscale Parisian apartment building where Renée works.

The Elegance of the Hedgehog - Wikipedia

Irritatingly though, in Renee's character, Muriel Barbery filled to the brim with superciliousness, out of control self-deprecation, and disjointed ramblings about philosophy. This turned the previously amusing tone of Paloma, into an acerbic and bitter air with Renee.

Despite its cutesy air of chocolate-box Paris, The Elegance of the Hedgehog is, by the end, quite radical in its stand against French classism and hypocrisy. It's intriguing that her compatriots ...

Review: The Elegance of the Hedgehog by Muriel Barbery

In The Elegance of the Hedgehog, a lot can happen when a middle-aged concierge and a precocious twelve-year-old girl connect thanks to the influence of a retired Japanese businessman. The fact that both the widow and the girl are well read does nothing to assuage the deep existential angst they suffer from as they pretend they are as shallow and uninformed as everyone else.

The Elegance of the Hedgehog - Muriel Barbery

The Elegance of the Hedgehog is different from any book I have ever read. The main narrator of this book is Madame Renee Michel, a fifty-four year old widow who has worked for twenty-seven years as head concierge of a posh Parisian apartment building on 7, rue de Grenville. The inhabitants all belong to the upper class.
